

YAMS HEALTH & SAFETY 2018

YAMS is committed to its health and safety responsibilities under the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and associated regulations.

A copy of the safety policy is available on request. Stewards will attend a safety briefing prior to the Show and the Health and Safety file is kept in the YAMS office. Exhibitors, their staff, contractors and visitors are reminded to follow any instructions issued by the Health and Safety Officer and appointed stewards to help ensure the safety of all persons on site.

PLEASE NOTE IN PARTICULAR:

- All raised components must be securely supported by mechanical means. Under no circumstances should raised components rely solely on hydraulic pressure to remain in position.
- Visual displays must allow for viewing on the stands and not cause any obstruction of the aisles.
- There should be no protrusions from the stands into the aisles or walkways eg: from drawbars etc.
- NO SMOKING in marquees / permanent buildings.

MOVING OR OPERATING EQUIPMENT:

- Firstly any exhibitor must inform us and gain our prior consent to any proposed display of moving or operating equipment on their stands.
- Exhibitors who wish to display moving or operating equipment on their stands must ensure it does not interfere with any other exhibitor and in the opinion of the Health and Safety Officer, complies with Health and Safety requirements.
- This includes hot work and cutting demos .

FIRE SAFETY AND EMERGENCIES:

Stewards act as fire marshals in each area and in the event of an emergency, you should inform a steward, ring or contact the main reception 01904 489731. In the event of an alarm being raised, follow the steward's instructions and emergency PA announcements. Evacuation is to the nearest car park areas. Please note that smoking is not allowed in any of the permanent or temporary buildings.

FIRST AID AND ACCIDENT REPORTING:

- A first aid station and mobile unit is located next to the main show-field entrance.
- A first-aid service is also provided in the main market hall.
- All accidents must be reported to the YAMS office or Reception.

DISABILITY DISCRIMINATION ACT:

The Disability Discrimination Act 1995 (DDA) requires service providers to ensure that they do not discriminate against people with disabilities. Exhibitors are responsible for ensuring that they comply with the Act. Disabled parking arrangements have been made and stewards are available to assist where necessary.

VEHICLE MOVEMENTS:

Due to the high level of vehicle movements on site, high visibility jackets or waistcoats must be worn by all contractor's and exhibitor's staff during the build-up and break-down periods.
